Theme Goshuin Tour

Goshuin stamps can be collected from local shrines and temples and provide a physical link between you and your spiritual journey across Japan. Go out and collect a little happiness as you carve out your encounters in this vibrant country.

Hino Takahata Fudosen

One of the three Kanto Sandai Fudo (great shrines to the guardian deity Fudo). There are 4 types of Goshuin stamp to collect here, including Fudo Myoo, however, due to the pandemic, only one is currently available.

Goshuin Tour

A centre of power in Tokyo TAMA.

Hino Yasaka Shrine

A shrine associated with Shinsengumi (the edo police force). Here you can find a special Goshuin book in the same Asagi colour as the policeman's Haori and emblazoned with the "Makoto" symbol.

Hachioji Takaosan Yakuo-in

One of the most sacred mountains in the Kanto region, opened about 1200 years ago. The yellow and red Goshuin depicting the autumn leaves of Mt. Takao are popular. When the two books are lined up, it seems as if the large tengu and the small tengu are facing each other.
