Glamping

As places to experience luxurious, "glamorous" camping, Glamping facilities and new accommodations are being established throughout the forests around Tokyo. WOODLAND BOTHY, located at the top of a small mountain just opened in June 2017. It takes about 30 minutes on foot to climb the mountain trail leading to the lodging facility, which is available for 1 group each night. Guests can indulge in specially prepared dishes from an exclusive chef and relax in a private bath with a stunning view.
